

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir,

My attention has been drawn to a mistake quoted under the column 'Personalities' P. 237 of the Oct-Dec. 1963 of the Journal, wherein it has been stated that I passed my membership in Dermatology in 1961.

As the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburg has no examination in any speciality subject as such, a quotation like this is likely to cause wrong impression in some minds. The examination is in Medicine with a special subject offered by a candidate and which in my case was Venereology and not Dermatology.

This correction therefore is necessary and I request that it may kindly be corrected before long and in very next issue of the journal.

Yours,
