International society of cryosurgery

The International Society for cryosurgery welcomes applications for membership from individuals whose qualifications and interests have been demonstrated by experience and publications in a relevant field. Applications for membership may be obtained from the society's secretary, Dr. Marco Laudi, Via Nizza 39, 10125 Torino, Italy. Annual dues are $ 15.00. Successful applicants will be billed following election to membership.

Presently the society holds an International Congress every third year where the latest results in multiple disciplines are presented and discussed. "State of the Art" round tables in which leading authorities address the society has been a major feature at the congresses.
